Customer Reviews

My 2nd grader started reading these books, and got her 3-year-old sister hooked on them, too. We read them together and they both love this series. The books follow a familiar formula in which Jack Frost steals some magical fairy item and Rachel and Kirsty must help the fairies save the day. They are light reading but always entertaining. We read them over and over.

Elementary-school-aged girls love these books. My girls start reading them as soon as they're unwrapped! Not exactly literary masterpieces, but kids find them interesting and funny. The stories are always light - good for sensitive children who aren't yet ready for (and might tend to avoid reading) books that are scary or upsetting.

I love this book because it is super funny and it makes me want to go swimming! I am on a swim team and I was never as bad as the goblins were at swimming! I recommend this book to any swim lovers! • • • • • • • •

My Granddaughter is 8 years old. I purchased four of the fairy books for her and she loved them. She went into marathon reading and didn't put them down. She asked for ALL of the fairy books - so - guess what she's getting for her birthday? I love to see my granddaughter so involved in reading!

My 6-year old loves this series. Although the stories get a little predictable after reading a couple from the series, my daughter loves them and is engaged in the stories. She loves that she is reading "chapter books".

It's a quick but also very childish I recommend it ages 5-9 years old. But if you are older than that you can still read it if you like but if you do not like books that are very predictable and all end the same way don't bother.

I would give this book a five+. I loved this book because the goblins kept fighting about the magic goggles. I also thought it was very funny. The last thing I loved is that Samantha got her magic goggles back.

My daughter has enjoyed reading these for several years now and will go back and reread them from time to time which she has not done with any other book.
