

The book was found

Ancient Egyptians And Their Neighbors: An Activity Guide

Synopsis

Want to speak Hittite? Hold out a glass and ask for â œwa-tar.â • This unique activity book for children ages nine and up shows what life was like among the Nubians, Mesopotamians, Hittites, and their neighbors the Egyptians from around 3100 B.C., when Upper and Lower Egypt became one kingdom, to the death of Queen Cleopatra under the Romans, in 30 B.C. Projects such as building a Nubian irrigation machine, creating a Mesopotamian cylinder seal out of clay, making kilts like those worn by Egyptian boys and men, and writing in Hittite cuneiform help young readers to connect with these ancient cultures and see how profoundly they have influenced our own.

Book Information

Paperback: 208 pages

Publisher: Chicago Review Press; 1st edition (November 1, 1999)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1556523602

ISBN-13: 978-1556523601

Product Dimensions: 11 x 0.4 x 8.5 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.5 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.9 out of 5 starsÂ Â See all reviewsÂ (15 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #264,480 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #134 inÂ Books > Children's Books > Education & Reference > History > Ancient #3725 inÂ Books > Children's Books > Activities, Crafts & Games > Activity Books #69239 inÂ Books > Reference

Age Range: 9 and up

Grade Level: 4 and up

Customer Reviews

So much more interesting than a textbook for our homeschool study of ancient history! This book covers not only the familiar Egyptian civilization but also several lesser-known yet equally important ones to whom we owe a great deal. For example, the Babylonians gave us our first written laws; the Sumerians gave us writing and the first real cities; the fierce Hittites discovered how to work iron. Children will remember what they learn in this book because the text is accompanied by recipes, crafts, and other activities. I recommend the Hittite Hummus myself.

This book introduces four cultures : the Egyptians, the Mesopotamians, the Nubians and the Hittites. The author accurately presents aspects of these civilizations such as history, geography, architecture, clothing, food, religion, writing and labor. Children will enjoy themselves and become part of these ancient worlds by easily following the instructions of the activities. These include constructing a boat, cooking ancient food, creating clothes, and writing on clay. All in all, it is a fun and informative book for children ages 9 to 12.

We use "Our Young Folks' Josephus" as our primary history spine which mentions all these cultures as they relate to Israel. What I like best about this book is that it covers cultures that are often not well represented in other books of this type, particularly the Nubians, Mesopotamians and Hittites. There are many craft activity guides available for Egypt, but nothing that I know of for these other cultures. The crafts are really well thought out and a lot of fun to do. They also have a lot of real learning value and are not just play. Our family highly recommends this book for the study of Ancient cultures.

This is a gem of a book. As an educator and child psychologist (and parent!), I welcome this exceptional addition to the literary field. Though its defined audience is 9-12 I found ANCIENT EGYPTIONS AND THEIR NEIGHBORS: AN ACTIVITY GUIDE full of ideas and interesting facts. I admit I did not attempt the activities, but the text itself is exceptional---thoughtful and beautifully written as well as meticulously researched. Broida concentrates on four ancient neighboring cultures revealing what their lives were like. The activities give the child an opportunity to become part of these cultures, greatly enriching the reading experience. Let's hope this is only the first of a series. Congratulations to a talented, innovative, and intelligent author.

We got this book as part of a curriculum on Ancient Egypt, and at first I was slightly disappointed. I am not sure exactly why, but I just didn't realize how much information was really in there. Maybe because the book is only two-toned in color or something, I just saw it as a bunch of basic projects (i.e. make a bracelet, make an Egyptian tunic, cook a fig cake) with some paragraphs of text interspersed. But over time, I came to appreciate the book more. We kept going back to it for some of the basic information in the text parts. And as we did some of the projects and compared it to other Egypt project books out there, we appreciated the versions in this book more. The recipes were easier, all the basic projects were covered (i.e. write in hieroglyphics, make a cartouche), and it was one of the only children's books out there who mention the Nubians and Hittites at all. Definitely the Egyptian section is the best of the four. I am not sure I would buy it as my star resource for the other three cultures. But we're definitely glad we bought it since we like it more than "Old Testament Days," "Make It Work," "Pyramids!", and even Broida's other book "Ancient Israelites." Worth the 11$ to have it around.

This is for those of you who are debating whether you should purchase this book: This book is more than I'd hoped it would be, especially for only $11. For each activity, there is also a lesson that tells its relevance. I was expecting maybe a 50 page "workbook" type activity guide, but this one has 173 pages, and isn't formatted like a workbook at all. Also, the maps in the book are very detailed and easy to read - and easy for my kids to understand. The pictures are in black and white, which is rarely any fun for kids, but for $11, I think I've gotten my money's worth. :)

This is a gem of a book. As an educator and child psychologist (and parent!), I welcome this exceptional addition to the literary field. Though its defined audience is 9-12 I found ANCIENT EGYPTIANS AND THEIR NEIGHBORS; AN ACTIVITY GUIDE full of ideas and interesting facts. I admit I did not attempt the activities, but the text itself is exceptional--thoughtful and beautifully written as well as meticulously researched. Broida concentrates on four ancient neighboring cultures revealing what their lives were like. The activities give the child an opportunity to become part of these cultures, greatly enriching the reading experience. Let's hope this is only the first of a series. Congratulations to a talented, innovative and intelligent author.

A fun little book of activities for elementary-aged students. Most require little to no prep and materials (or simple ones that you likely have around the house). We are using this book with Story of the World book and History Odyssey Curriculum, and this is a very nice companion with lots of ideas to help reinforce learning. I look forward to checking out the other books in this collection!

Download to continue reading...

Ancient Egyptians and Their Neighbors: An Activity Guide Ancient Israelites and Their Neighbors: An Activity Guide The Chaldeans And Their Relationship To The Egyptians And The Babylonians And Their Offerings To The Dead Racial Unity of the Ancient Egyptians and Nubians Hail! Ancient Egyptians (Hail! History) East African Origin of the Ancient Egyptians What They Don't Tell You About: Ancient Egyptians The Ancient Egyptians (History Opens Windows) Alexander: The Great Leader and Hero of Macedonia and Ancient Greece (European History, Ancient History, Ancient Rome, Ancient Greece, Egyptian History, Roman Empire, Roman History) An Oneida Indian in Foreign Waters: The Life of Chief Chapman Scanandoah, 1870-1953 (The Iroquois and Their Neighbors) Brainiac's Road Trip Activity Book (Activity Books) (Activity Journals) Toddler Coloring

Book. Numbers Colors Shapes: Baby Activity Book for Kids Age 1-3, Boys or Girls, for Their Fun
Early Learning of First Easy Words ... (Preschool Prep Activity Learning) (Volume 1) Egypt and the Egyptians Tony Robinson's Weird World of Wonders! Egyptians Prophets Male and Female:
Gender and Prophecy in the Hebrew Bible, the Eastern Mediterranean, and the Ancient Near East (Ancient Israel and Its ... Literature Ancient Israel and Its Litera) Bodies of Knowledge in Ancient Mesopotamia: The Diviners of Late Bronze Age Emar and their Tablet Collection (Ancient Magic and Divination) Prophets and Prophecy in the Ancient Near East (Writings from the Ancient World)
(Writings from the Ancient World) American Bloomsbury: Louisa May Alcott, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Margaret Fuller, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Henry David Thoreau: Their Lives, Their Loves, Their Work Great Disciples of the Buddha: Their Lives, Their Works, Their Legacy (Teachings of the Buddha) Block Parties & Poker Nights: Recipes and Ideas for Getting and Staying Connected with Your Neighbors

Dmca