Everyone's Way Of The Cross

Synopsis

Clarence Enzler's perennially bestselling Stations of the Cross booklet has sold more than 3 million copies since it was first published in 1970 and is now updated with fresh, bold, commissioned woodcuts by renowned artists Annika Nelson and Gertrud Mueller Nelson. For more than forty years, the simple, intimate, and powerful words of Clarence Enzler's Everyone's Way of the Cross have invited readers to grow closer to Christ by embracing the mystery of suffering in the world. By joining Christ on this transformative journey, we learn to become his disciples--his other self--to a hurting world. Enzler's classic is given new vibrancy with beautiful, meditative, commissioned woodcuts by Annika Nelson and her mother Gertrud Mueller Nelson. The artists express how these meditations show Christ among us--often in unexpected places. In their words, "We find him in the subway, yearning at the border, standing in the soup line--the bewildered soldier, the single mother, the abused child, the lonely senior, the bullied teen." Also available in Spanish and in a large-print edition, this booklet is ideal for private study and for parish-wide distribution for Lenten observance of Stations of the Cross.

I have tried a lot of Stations of the Cross. I really like the St Alphonsus Liguori and used it for years but can not find one with update language. Everyone's Way of the Cross is my next favorite. It is extremely good for thoughtful reflection and meditation. I just am not fond of the pictures but the words are terrific. It really brings it into today's life.

I had a copy of this book 40 years ago, and I am so glad to see it back in print. Barnes and Noble does not have it! The words in the book speak to your heart during the Way of the Cross like nothing else I have ever come across. Don't miss out on this wonderful book.

This is a great way to pray the Stations! I have found his insights and meditations very meaningful and "bite-sized" - good for pretty much anyone....hence the title!By the way, Clarence Enzler was a permanent deacon in the Archdiocese of Washington, where he and his wife raised a big, Catholic family. One of those "kids" is now Msgr. Enzler, a faithful priest, in the same diocese and runs Catholic Charities for the diocese. An excellent legacy!

Used in an ecumenical worship in a Catholic Church,, this traditional Stations of the Cross devotional introduced this ancient Catholic practice with modern language and prayerful responses that enhanced our community service of 5 denominations - Methodist, Lutheran, Baptist, UCC, and Catholic. Great resource..

This is the best guide I have found for praying the Stations of the Cross. This version helped me to better understand how to connect my life experiences directly to each event on Jesus' Way of the Cross. Praying with this guide has given me a greater appreciation for this beautiful devotion and the lessons I can learn from it each time I make this prayerful pilgrimage with Jesus. I pray this devotion year-round, but especially during Lent.Note: The woodcut images provided for each station reflect modern events. Instead of these, I prefer to reflect on images of Jesus such as these paintings from St Ignatius Catholic Church in San Francisco: http://stignatiussf.org/?page_id=364

I love it and gave the twocopies I ordered away as gifts. I have one of the original copies of Every Man's Way Of theCrossprinted back in 1970. I am a dear friend of Clarence Enzler;s niece, Aileen Wolf.

This beautiful and simple reflection on Jesus's passion and death through the traditional 14 Stations of the Cross is both profoundly humbling and uplifting. Each time I read and reflect on these readings, I am filled with hope, gratitude and peace.

Without a doubt, the best little book for Lent, doing the Stations. It is several months since Easter, and this is the book that I use for Stations. I have it on my Kindle, and I purchased a new hard copy.
